Good to hear that your problem is now solved...

Age of the battery seems often "irrelevant"...

After a black screen, I changed my battery at a 3Cag meeting... Then everything was fine again... For JUST a few weeks !

So I changed it again... And it lasted a few more weeks... Before I had to do it again... But then it lasted a few months (and still do) !

They seem to be identical batteries to start with. I didn't upgrade my A1XE at all during that time (just some libs, apps,... Nothing major).

I reckon these batteries are not always in PERFECT condition when bought... They might have spend too much time on the shelves !
