using SFS on classic and the A1 I get similair errors from time to time... I think it is the nature of the beast... I reset each time and to no ill effect...

I look upon it as a clitch in combinations of software and ghost code lol...

not unlike the friendly guru of yesterday...

to remark about it now though I have not experienced anything of this nature for a few months... I did double my buffers on all my partitions though... no idea if that matters... some run 2048 and a few are sporting 4096 adios!
