Amigabounty.net needs your help to choose bounties.

Everyone can now go to Amigabounty.net and suggest new bounties but in our small community unfortunately we can't open all bounties and expect a positive result (lack of developers). We discussed this topic and decided to set up a small bounty committee. This committee will then choose the best suited and most useful OS4 projects to be backed by a bounty.

We need 3 more people for that committee and people with a at least basic knowledge about porting and development will be preferred.

The committee should be able to take a look at a proposed bounty and evaluate the approximately needed effort to get a result.
