@Troels

Sad situation. Did he give any excuse, like being away from home/internet-access for not answering emails?

As far as him telling you he had started work a long time ago, but then publically saying he has only just started work - both can be true. When he said that to you, he may have meant that he was working on the MorphOS code to remove MorphOS dependencies, but he may not have actually tried porting it to OS4 until 2-3 months ago. I would not see any problem with that, APART from lack of communication about what he meant & what the progress was.
