No news I'm afraid.

I have contacted Paypal 10 times by email without ever getting a reply.

EDIT: 11 times just now...

I also contacted them by phone 3 times now only to get answered by a young lady who said she would send my account in for review and that there was nothing more they could do. Then nothing happens.

Hopefully you will eventually get someone on the phone who knows what he/she is doing. Like others have said, asking to talk to someone higher up also helps.

The first time that I used PayPal was to buy my A1. I sent the payment, and then the next day PayPal reversed the payment because their algorithms thought that it might be fraud. Initially they were rather slow to respond, but then I threatened to close my account, and never use their service again. After that they relatively quickly resolved the issue, and I haven't had a problem with them since.
