hi

It is actually possible to add the verification lib (which I do btw), thank you for your feedback.

The readme should be read if it pointless to waste so much time if it is not read.

No I do not want to include my lib in my game for 2 reasons, the first is that the lib has a different status of games (remember it is GIFTWARE) and the second is that I often am updating it and I do not want an old version remains and some players have incompatibilities on their systems.

Thank you for your Support
