A couple times I have had it run out of RAM after some extended browsing. I get a very detailed requester saying that it can not cope with a failed allocation and it must close.. (X1000 with 2 of the 4 gig available to AmigaOS)

And just this evening I got a DSI when a facebook chat window played a short audio clip.. I noticed it was the "Odyssey Audio Player" or something like that.

And maybe I'm just old and paranoid, but I never ignore these things. If it is having troubles of any sort I will reset the machine before proceeding. But that's just me. :)
