* Are you still interested in gaming projects from Huno?

absolutely. i'm a huge fan of FPS games, and have been hoping for darkplaces for years. i always look forward to trying any new significant port from huno since i know the quality will be exceptional.

* Do you play Huno's games ?

yes, many of them. i was one of the first people to purchase the acube DVD compilation once it was available for purchase as a download, and enjoy his FPS, platformer, and shoot-em-up ports tremendously.

* What could refrain you from playing or using Huno's games/apps ?

at the moment, nothing. in the future i'll be transitioning to a X5000 which will mean not having 3D compatibility, at least for a while. i'll be using a dual-card setup with a 9250, so hopefully that will work, but, well, i can't think of anything that would keep me from gaming at the moment. just that one possibility.
