Well, his site is a mess and he doesn't upload his stuff to file portals like os4depot so many people don't find them.

Yeah, I didn't realise he'd released anything (maybe one or two things).

I can't figure out what (if anything) is wrong with his A1XE. However I have an A1XE motherboard here gathering dust, which I'm probably never going to get around to selling, so I'm happy to donate it to somebody doing development who needs it. (preferably somebody who can pick it up, I'm very lazy when it comes to sending parcels)
